The report should respond to the following five overarching questions:

What does quality look like in your subject areas?

- How well is it taught?
- How well do students learn it?
- How does it help students to embed it in practice?
- How does this help children to learn in schools and other settings?

Areas of comment	Evidence base
Comment on actions taken by subject teams to ensure a high-quality curriculum.	e.g. OFSTED subject reviews, subject associations, research informed practice, CCF bibliography
Comment on activities undertaken by and with subject teams to evaluate the quality of subject teaching.	e.g. Peer review activity, external examiner reports, module evaluations by staff and / or students
Comment on the assessment and evaluation of student learning by subject teams	e.g. subject audits, module assessments, end of placement report targets
Comment on development activities undertaken to evaluate students' ability to enact centre-based subject learning within school-based learning environments.	e.g. UPT feedback, end of placement reports, samples of weekly review sheets

Comment on the impact centre-based subject learning has on children's learning in schools and other settings	e.g. end of placement reports, UPT feedback, placement QA reports, end of programme evaluations
